IMMUNOLOGY

THE JOURNAL OF

IMMUNOLOGY

THE JOURNAL OF

One of the most highly cited journals in biomedicine, THE JOURNAL OF IMMUNOLOGY serves immunologists and individuals in related disciplines.

Each issue contains hundreds of pages of up-to-date research. In addition, the “Cutting Edge” section of the journal features the highest impact articles in the field. “In This Issue” provides summaries of the most interesting articles in an issue with a focus on each article’s importance to immunology.

THE JOURNAL OF IMMUNOLOGY is the trusted source for reports on immunology research for scientists from many disciplines. Every scientist working in immunology will want a subscription!

AAI Courses in Immunology

The American Association of Immunologists 2006 Introductory Course in Immunology

at the

University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA, June 23-29, 2006

Course Co-Directors: Terri Laufer, MD, University of Pennsylvania;
John Monroe, PhD, University of Pennsylvania

A comprehensive introduction to the basic principles of immunology offered by outstanding faculty in a two-part course. Suitable for students with a general biology background. Part I (June 24-26) covers the basic biology of the immune system. Part II (June 27-29) is a lecture series covering specific disciplines of immunology and emphasizing clinical relevance. Part II requires an understanding of basic immunology. Parts I and II may be taken separately at the discretion of the student. Course registration check-in starts June 23rd. The first lecture will start the morning of June 24th. 37 hours of CME will be offered.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE RECEIVED BY MAY 22, 2006

Attendance is limited to 220 registrants.

The American Association of Immunologists 2006 Advanced Course in Immunology

Stanford University • Stanford, California • July 15-21, 2006

Course Director: Olivia M. Martinez, PhD, Stanford University

An intensive course designed for serious students of immunology. Leading experts will present recent advances in understanding the biology of the immune system and its role in health and disease. This course is directed toward advanced trainees and scientists who wish to expand or update their understanding of the field. This is not an introductory course; attendees are required to have a firm understanding of the principles of immunology. Course registration check-in starts on July 15th; the first lecture will be that evening. 44 hours of CME will be offered.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE RECEIVED BY JUNE 1, 2006

Attendance is limited to 220 registrants.

Overseas applicants are advised to apply early for visas.

The American Association of Immunologists 2006 Travel & Related Awards

Application Deadline: January 16, 2006

for 2006!

Cynthia Chambers Memorial-eBioscience Junior Faculty Award -- To honor the memory of Dr. Cynthia Chambers, the AAI, in partnership with eBioscience, Inc., established this award in 2005 to advance the careers of junior scientists who attend the AAI Annual Meeting to present immunology research, specifically in the area of cancer biology. The recipient will receive a $1,000 cash award. Selection is based on the submission of an original first-author abstract for presentation (oral or poster) at the forthcoming AAI Annual Meeting. Selection and notification of awardee will occur prior to the meeting. The awardee will be recognized and presented with a certificate during an awards ceremony at the Annual Meeting, and must attend the awards ceremony to receive the award.

AAI-Huang Foundation Trainee Achievement Award -- Established in 1997 through an endowment from the Huang Foundation, this award offers promising trainees* in the field of immunology a $1,000 cash prize and support for travel to the AAI Annual Meeting. Selection is based on career promise and presentation of an outstanding first-author abstract at the meeting.

AAI Junior Faculty Travel Award -- Supported in part through an unrestricted educational grant from Bender MedSystems, this award offers a $500 cash prize to young investigators based on career promise and submission of a first-author abstract to the AAI Annual Meeting. AAI members and nonmembers are eligible.

AAI Minority Scientist Travel Award -- The 2006 AAI Minority Scientist Travel Awards are funded by a grant from the National Institute of General Medical Sciences, National Institutes of Health [FASEB MARC Program: T36-GM08059-23]. This award provides eligible mentors, trainees,* and/or junior faculty members complimentary advance registration and travel support in connection with the AAI Annual Meeting. Two types of awards -- Faculty Mentor/Minority Trainee Award and Minority Trainee-to-Junior-Faculty Travel Award -- are available, with separate eligibility requirements for each. Awardees must attend the meeting and award ceremony.

Pfizer-Showell Travel Award -- Established in 1999 through an endowment from Henry J. Showell and Pfizer, Inc., this award recognizes the professional promise of an early career investigator (assistant professor or equivalent) by assisting the awardee with travel to the Annual Meeting to present immunology research. Selection is based on career progress and submission of an outstanding abstract selected for oral presentation at the meeting.

For AAI award eligibility requirements and instructions, visit <http://www.aai.org/Awards/default.htm>.

* Requires submission of AAI Trainee Certification Form: http://www.aai.org/Awards/PDFs/cert_form.pdf.
